-Jesus Comforts the Sisters of Lazarus

Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again." Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day." Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection, and the life: The one who believes in me will live, even though they die; and whoever lives by believing in me will never die. Do you believe this?

John 11:23-26

Death entered the world when Adam sinned, and it has been a constant presence ever since. All of us know that unless the Lord returns, we will one day experience the end of this life. "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). Yet for a believer, the reality of death is not a source of fear and dread. We know that, because of the sacrifice of Jesus and the grace of God, we will leave this life for a far better place where we will be with God. This world is only a temporary home, and death is merely the doorway to eternity.

D. L. Moody wrote, "Someday you will read in the papers that D. L. Moody, of East Northfield, is dead. Don't you believe a word of it! At that moment I shall be more alive than I am now. I shall have gone up higher, that is all; gone out of this old clay tenement into a house that is immortal, a body that death cannot touch, that sin cannot taint, a body like unto His own glorious body. I was born of the flesh in 1837. I was born of the Spirit in 1856. That which is born of the flesh may die. That which is born of the Spirit will live forever."

The future holds no fear for the child of God who is living in faith and believing God's promises. Even the worst the world can threaten is to send us to Heaven more quickly. God keeps all His children, and our future with Him is settled and secure.

Because of the promise of Heaven, believers in Christ need not fear death.

The Old Testament contains many accounts of God's people crying out for help. Although their trouble was often self-imposed due to their waywardness, God was listening and still eager to come to their aid.

The prophet Isaiah had to deliver a lot of bad news, but in the midst of it he assured the people that "The Lord longs to be gracious to you; therefore he will rise up to show you compassion How gracious he will be when you cry for help! (Isa. 30:18-19)

Yet God often looked to His own people to be the answer to that cry for help. (Isa. 58:10).

Today, people all around us are in need of someone to take action to help them. It is a high privilege to become the hands of God as we live on this earth as people are crying for help.

"Lord, remind me that You desire to show compassion to those in need and that You often call on us to be the instruments of that compassion.

Give me an opportunity today to show Your love to at least one person in need."

God Loves You and We Love You Too!
