The Impossibility of Neutrality

Christ was an extremist and was crucified for it. He dared to walk differently. His answers were not from the usual boneyard of contemporary dialogue. He cared little for what people said and less for the “mainstream of human thought” He dared to be different.

He preached on the theme “The impossibility of neutrality.” Almost was not good enough. The gauntlet was thrown down with the words, “He that is not with me is against me; and he that does not gather with me scatters.” (Luke 11:23)

One of the greatest perils we face today is the peril of neutrality. Every extremist is marked with labels in our present day, yet the greatest extremist of them all — the extreme of indifference goes unnoticed. This “middle-of-the-roader” has no counterpart. He sits alone. His neutrality will eat the very heart out of a congregation or can draw the very life’s blood out of a nation. The middle of the road is a very dangerous place to drive or walk, much less to live.

Jesus said, “So then, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold or hot, I will spew you out of my mouth.”(Rev.3:16)

Isn’t it better to go halfway and quit than to never start at all? Jesus answers that question with a very direct and unequivocal NO!

The desire for popularity and acceptance pushes one to the middle of the road where he feels he can work both sides of the street at the same time. He is not committed. He sadly mistakes the “stretching of the conscience” for the “broadening of the mind.”

To him, nothing is altogether right or wrong. He may sip on the Lord’s Supper on Sunday morning and sip cocktails on Sunday evening. He who runs with the hounds and hides with the hares. He’d rather face sin around a conference table than on the operating table.

He makes convalescents out of those who are in desperate need of surgery, to remove sin from their life. You cannot peacefully co-exist with it – at least not for very long.

You must get rid of it. Sin will do you in.

James says, “You adulterers and adulteresses, do you not know that the friendship of the world is enmity with God?

Whoever therefore will be a friend of the worlds ways is the enemy of God”

Our decision is — Is it Right or Wrong, Is my answer Yes or No,

Is this Good or Bad.

There’s no room in the middle, it’s much to dangerous there.

No way to have it both ways, It’s God or Satan?

You have to choose.

God Loves You and We Love You Too
