WHAT SHOULD I WEAR?

The other day, someone at church asked my wife a rather serious question. They asked her if I was using drugs. While I never have been and never will be a drug user, the question seems to be quite understandable given my current situation. Let me explain why.

I suffer from bouts of serious depression and tend to wear my emotions on my sleeve. When I am not in the right state of mind emotionally, people tend to be able to see it. At the time I am writing this, I am in one of those valley experiences that I have come to know fairly well. To the outsider looking in, I must look pretty haggard and worn down. Fortunately, that concerned church member has prompted me to remember a biblical principle I realize I need to be using right now.

Isaiah 61:1-3 reads "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me...to console those who mourn in Zion, to give them beauty for ashes, the oil of Joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness..."(NKJV)

In times of heaviness and depression, we have to remember to wear praise like a designer jacket or a good pair of jeans. Christ's job description in Isaiah tells us that heaviness, depression and times of emotional negativity are spirits that weigh us down. But praise for His infinite blessings and awesome nature is what God wants us to exchange all of these things for, because praise wipes out negativity.

I have had to use this concept in the past and see the need for it now. I've let my present dark days block my view of God's greatness. On days when life's trials made me not want to get out of the bed, I often had to physically "put on" my praise by forcing myself to remember His goodness, the ways He helped me to overcome in the past and the assurance that He would do the same in the future. I had to remember that He is both the strength of my life and my strength in times of trouble (Psalms 27:1 and 37:39).

For our national leaders and world leaders as they lead their respective nations.

For our troops in Afghanistan, Bosnia, Korea, Iraq, Liberia, Haiti and other places.

For the "people in the box"-- the lost in our families and community.

For those who are being martyred and persecuted for Christ in our own time

For marriage to stand in our laws as God ordained it.

For the church in Siliguri and Naresh Chhetri and Ashok Basfor

For the churches in Honduras and Haiti who partner with us in the gospel

Movie Night

The youth groups are invited to stay after church tonight to watch and discuss the movie Gods Not Dead. We will be ordering pizza so bring a few dollars. For extras boys can bring pop and chips. Girls can bring a dessert. Any adults wanting to stay and watch the movie are also welcome. For more info please see Tim.

Fourth Sunday PM Service

August 24 is the fourth Sunday of the month and for the PM service our songleaders will be teaching us new songs and working out the problems in songs we currently know. Join us for the singing next week.

Fair Winners: Last Call

We have many in our congregation who have projects, produce, animals, etc., entered in the a fair (Pike, Scioto and Jackson). We would like to publish a list of all of our fair winners next week in the bulletin. Please take the time to write the information on the pads on the table in the foyer. Several pads are laid out. One for Pike. One for Jackson. And three for Scioto.

The Hansel and Gretel play next weekend (August 22nd at 7:00pm and 23rd at 2:00pm and 7:00pm) Jax Theatre (attached to the cinema) in Wheelersburg. Stars from Sunshine include: Simon Davis, Annie Davis, Taylor Barney, Jordan Jones, and

Jesus said:
"It's easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for the rich to enter the kingdom of God."

Joanna
Glispie

The disciples said: "Then who can be saved".
Jesus said: "All things are possible with God."

But being an imperfect individual, it is not always easy to do this. Even now, it's hard to do, because until I actually put on the garment of praise, that spirit of heaviness does its job of weighing me down. It often feels as if I am fighting for my life; fighting to pull off that heaviness that wants to cling to my shoulders. That's why it's good to realize that in God's eyes, the process is an exchange. If I would get past the sadness and the tears, if I would just let it go, if I could pull off the heaviness in order to trade it for something better, giving it completely over to God, He will supply a garment that was designed to for life abundantly.

So as a person learning to dress myself in the goodness of God, to any depressed or hurting person I would say this: the joy of the Lord is your strength (Nehemiah 8:10). In God's presence, joy is at its fullness (Psalm 16:11). When the darkness around us gets to be too much, we have to remind ourselves of all the light that is God. Wrap yourself in the garment of praise. If we don't, we'll walk around defeated for the rest of our lives and the good Lord knows that would be a major waste. I thank Him that He is such a concerned parent, not wanting us to freeze out in the cold, but wanting us to zip up and put on our praise.
