Really Difficult Words to Say

The four most difficult words to say: "I have done wrong." We generally do not like to admit that we have done wrong.

One reason is pride. Pride is one of the most dangerous sins that affect humanity. It was the first one listed in God's list of hated sins: "These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look..." (Prov. 6:16-17).

Another reason is denial due to self-deception. As we have often stated tongue-in-cheek, "Denial" is not just a river in Egypt." The danger of deception is always prevalent (1 Cor. 6:9; 15:33; Gal. 6:7; Eph. 5:6; 2 Thess. 2:3; 1 John 3:7).

The most dangerous is self-deception. "Let no man deceive himself" (1 Cor. 3:18; cf. Gal. 6:3; James 1:22, 26; 1 John 1:8). Satan is the great deceiver (Rev. 12:9), and he has convinced many who are plagued with sin that they have not done wrong.

Thus, we must be true and honest with ourselves whenever we look to the word of God as a mirror of our souls (James 1:22-25).

The three most difficult words to say: "I am sorry." Closely akin to the aforementioned words, this is the next step of digression. Even when one may be willing to admit that he has done wrong, he may not be willing to apologize for it. This is where rationalization enters.

We know that we have done whatever action, but we are unwilling to say, "I am sorry." Apologies are often difficult to express. It must come from a heart free from selfishness and pride. Those who find it difficult to apologize have developed hard hearts. Conversely, the psalmist declared, "...a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise" (Ps. 51:17). How many times have we planted ourselves behind our pews during the invitation song and refused to walk down the aisle because we are ashamed to say, "I am sorry" whenever we know we have done wrong?

The two most difficult words to say: "Thank you." Ingratitude is among the ugliest sins (cf. Rom. 1:21). Even from youth, we as parents teach our children to express gratitude. Nevertheless, children who never learn to say, "Thank you," grow up into adults whose character reflects unkindness.

When individuals do things for us, whenever people help us, when friends even do little things to express kindness and love, we ought always to say, "Thank you" (Luke 17:11-19). How amazing it is that these two little words can signify so much!

The single most difficult word to say is, "No." All sin comes from an unwillingness to say this single word. Whenever Satan tempted Jesus in the wilderness, He responded three times by quoting scripture that reiterated His expression: "No!" Whenever we face temptation, we are at a crossroads—do we give in and yield by saying, "Yes," or do we stay resolute to what we know the Bible teaches and resoundingly say, "No." It is so easy to give, but it is very difficult in the heat of various trials and temptations of life to say, "No." Let us resolve to learn how to say these difficult words.
