What do we cover up?

For the appeal we make does not spring from error or impure motives, nor are we trying to trick you. On the contrary, we speak as those approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel. We are not trying to please people but God, who tests our hearts. You know we never used flattery, nor did we put on a mask to cover up greed—God is our witness.

1 Thessalonians 2:3-5 NIV

Paul was talking here about his ministry to the church in Thessalonica. At the time that Paul was writing, many men were preaching about God. Some, like Paul, were teaching with pure hearts and motives. Other people were teaching to inspire a personal following, gain a name for themselves, or to just make money. Peter also warned that there would be teachers like this.

But there were also false prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will secretly introduce destructive heresies, even denying the sovereign Lord who bought them—bringing swift destruction on themselves. Many will follow their depraved conduct and will bring the way of truth into disrepute. In their greed these teachers will exploit you with fabricated stories. Their condemnation has long been hanging over them, and their destruction has not been sleeping.
2 Peter 2:1-3

Paul, in his appeal to the Thessalonians, said that he did not “put on a mask” to cover up impure motives. The false teachers looked and sounded good but when you looked under the surface, they were full of very impure motives. We are to test those who teach to make sure that they are teaching the truth for God and not with impure motives for their own gain.

The Inevitable and the Immovable

There are times in life when we find things in our way that we cannot move. Even after persistent, fervent prayer, the cup of suffering is brought to quivering lips, and we must drink of it—right down to the bitter dregs. Abraham Lincoln said, "Some troubles are like the stump an old farmer had in his field—too hard to uproot, too knotty to split, and too wet and soggy to burn." When asked what to do in a spot like that, he replied, "Well, I would just plow around it." Some situations are like that stump. They are there and cannot be changed and must be accepted. May God give us grace and strength to accept the inevitable and plow around the immovable.

The fruit of the Spirit is longsuffering

Family Bible Time

Who Is The Great I Am
He is the First and the Last,
Alpha and Omega,
the Beginning and the End.
He is the Creator of all and the keeper of Creation. He is the architect of the universe and the manager of all times.
He always was, He always is, and
He always will be unmoved, unchanged, and undefeated.

We, as Christians, can also hide our true feelings and intentions from each other. Sometimes just to avoid the knowing glance of another Christian, sometimes to make people think that we are more faithful or righteous than we really are. Why are we afraid to let our true self show?

Instead, we were like young children among you. Just as a nursing mother cares for her children, so we cared for you. Because we loved you so much, we were delighted to share with you not only the gospel of God but our lives as well.

I Thessalonians 2:7-8

Paul goes on to say that he and the other teachers were like “young children” when they were with the Thessalonians. Children don’t cover up their feelings and attitudes like adults often do.

He called a little child to him and placed the child among them. And he said: “Truly I tell you, unless you change and become like little children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 18:2-3

Let’s not hide our true selves from one another but be open like little children before God!

David Deacon

Have a wonderful day!
