Frail and Weakened

"In 1846 former president John Quincy Adams suffered a stroke. Although he returned to Congress the following year, his health was clearly failing. A friend of his came in and made particular inquiry of his health. Adams answered, 'I inhabit a weak, frail, decayed tenement; battered by the winds and broken in upon by the storms, and from all I can learn, the landlord does not intend to repair'. The sad reality of life is the inevitability of death. All of our bodies will break down, some sooner than others. Cultures throughout time have tried to slow down and even beat the aging process, but all have failed. Death is one battle we will all eventually lose unless the Lord comes first. John Adams had the right perspective on life. He realized that (1) God is the owner, the landlord, of our bodies, and (2) He is in control of how long we live. This can be sad and discouraging, but there is good news! As 2 Corinthians 4:16 says, "... Though our outer man is decaying, yet our inner man is being renewed day by day."

Just because we are breaking down physically, doesn't mean we have to let it happen spiritually. We may get old physically, but we can remain young spiritually. We may get sick physically, but we can stay spiritually healthy. We may get physically weak and frail, but we can remain spiritually strong. We may be persecuted and beaten down, but our spiritual bodies can be renewed and protected. Being a Christian comes with so much hope and reassurance! It is important to keep ourselves physically healthy for as long as God allows us to live. However, there is nothing more important than remaining spiritually healthy and "renewing our inner man day by day" (2 Corinthians 4:16).

Wasted Years

I looked upon a farm one day
That once I used to own;
The barn had fallen to the ground
The fields were overgrown.

The house in which my children grew
Where we had lived for years-
I turned to see it broken down,
And brushed aside the tears.

I looked upon my soul one day,
To find it too had grown
With thorns and thistles everywhere
The seeds neglect had sown.

The years had passed while I had cared
For things of lesser worth;
The things of heaven I let go
While minding things of earth.

To Christ I turned with bitter tears,
And cried, "O Lord, forgive!
I haven't much time left for thee,
Not many years to live."

The wasted years forever gone,
The days I can't recall;
If I could live those days again,
I'd make Him Lord of all.

Don't Settle for Average

If a man were to stand with one hand on a hot stove and one hand in a freezer, some statistician would assert that, on average, this man is comfortable.

This reminds me of some who seem to feel that they can come to church services on Sunday and yet live like the devil during the week. They say they are on average, pretty good people.

Such a person cannot be comfortable any more than the man with one of his hands on the stove and the other in a freezer. He is a "doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways" (James 1:8) He only has enough religion to be miserable, but not enough to go to heaven.

Jesus does not want average; average nauseates Him. Revelation 3:15 says "I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either one or the other! So, because you are lukewarm, neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of My mouth."

Let us get all the way on the Lord's side now, lest we spend our eternity with the devil.
