My Last Sunday

I am a member of the church. I was baptized into the body of Christ long ago. Since that time I have really lost interest in Him, and have been busy with my life and all the things here on earth - not doing the work of the Lord.

Oh, I attend worship service once in a while and I help a little when I can....

Now I've received word that NEXT SUNDAY WILL BE MY LAST DAY ON EARTH. Now what?

I would like to be with my own people, and I can still think of a hundred places I would like to go, but now a lot of things that seemed so important before seem so trivial now. I have one more Sunday left. Somehow the only thing that seems to be really important is "the church."

It will be my last opportunity to be at the Lord's Table. It will be my last opportunity to worship together, to join in the singing, and to take part in praising the Lord. It will be my last opportunity to hear a gospel sermon and to hear the friendly voices of my brothers and sisters in the Lord. it will be my Last Opportunity To Worship On Earth.

My Last Sunday; What A Staggering Thought.

It could be yours too.

Puncture - Proof

The preacher said "You know, I like some of these new-fangled inventions. The puncture-proof tire is the one I like especially well.

If you are driving along with ordinary tires, and a nail goes through one....whisss, you lose all the air. But a puncture proof tire is different.

If a nail goes through, there is stuff inside that runs around and stops the hole and the air stays in."

You know, the heart of a Christian is like that puncture proof tire.

An ordinary heart may be filled with love; but when someone does something to puncture that heart, all the love runs out and hatred and hard feelings take its place. But, with a puncture proof heart, it is different. It is filled with the Spirit of Christ; and when someone, through their words or deeds, punctures that heart, immediately the hole is stopped up tight and the love stays in."

What Kind of Heart Do You Have?

Have a wonderful day!
