Get Your People Skills From God

Some people just seem to be born with great people skills. Perhaps their personality type just naturally draws others to them.

While natural ability may give some a leg up, the great news is that anyone can learn to work well with others and you can develop better interpersonal skills.

In fact, it's really a biblical command! The church is made up of all kinds of people and that being the case, we must all be in the people business.

Thankfully, our Lord doesn't leave us high and dry to try and figure these things out on our own.

Dispersed throughout the Bible we find several sections of scripture that teach us how to communicate, empathize, and get along with others effectively. God's interpersonal skills cannot be matched.

As the Creator, He understands exactly how humans think and behave.

Here are twelve insights on interpersonal skills sent to us from above.

Speak evil of no one (1 Thess. 5:14)

A soft answer turns away wrath, but harsh words stir up anger (Proverbs 15:1)

The wise of heart is called perceptive, and pleasant speech increases persuasiveness (Proverbs 16:21)

Be gentle and show courtesy to all people (Titus 3:2)

Do good to everyone (Gal. 6:10)

Bear one another's burdens (Gal. 6:2)

As you wish that others would do to you, do so to them (Luke 6:31)

Discern your own thoughts, identify your intentions (Heb. 4:12)

Treat others like you would treat Jesus. How would you interact with Him? (Matthew 25:40)

Season your speech with grace. It's the Saviors All-Spice for every relationship building goal (Col. 4:5-6)

Praise God and be joyful, it attracts people (Psalm 100:1-5)

Be ready for every good work, speak evil of no one, avoid quarreling, be gentle, show courtesy to all people (Titus 3:1-15)

Notice how many passages in the Bible command us to speak differently than everyone else? All of these insights can be simply summed up in just one sentence. Talk, walk, and live more like Jesus. He was perfect in every way and that includes how He interacted with others. Modeling ourselves after the Savior will not only improve our relationship skills with others, but also with Him.

Jesus also teaches us that no matter how gentle and loving we are, we'll still make some people upset.

That's alright! As long as we're acting like the Lord in all things.

God Loves You and We Love You Too

START FROM HERE

Lord, what do You want me to do? Acts 9:6

On June 6, 1944, three American officers huddled in a bombshell crater on Utah Beach in Normandy, France. Realizing the tide had carried them to the wrong place on the beach, the trio made an impromptu decision: "We'll start the battle from right here." They needed to move forward from a difficult starting point.

Saul found himself in a difficult place, needing to make a decision after meeting Jesus on the road to Damascus (Acts 9:1-20). Suddenly, the location and direction of his life was revealed to him as a mistake. Moving forward would be difficult and would require hard and uncomfortable work, perhaps even facing the Christian families whose lives he had torn apart. But he asked, "Lord, what do You want me to do?"

We often find ourselves in unexpected places, places we never planned to be. We may be drowning in debt, suffering with physical barriers, heavily burdened with the weight of sin's consequences. Whether Christ finds us this day in a prison cell or in a palace, whether He finds us broken or absorbed by our own selfish desires. Scripture tells us to heed Paul's advice to forget what lies behind and press forward toward Christ (Phil. 3:13-14). The past is no barrier to moving forward with Him.

Are you caught up in dealing with your past? Have you drifted away from Christ? Or perhaps you've never met Him. Today is the day to start. Begin fresh with Christ, even if you've tried before.

It's Not Too Late. START FROM HERE!

Have a wonderful day!
