The World Says Everyone is “Right”

We wrestle with much indecisiveness. Sometimes it's tough to make a firm decision. Especially now with Google at our fingertips and social media giving everyone a microphone, we can get so confused with so many different opinions and takes on a topic that it makes it hard to come to our own decision. This is especially true on matters of extreme importance, like truth. We're just scared of making the wrong choice.

There are so many different opinions on Scriptural truth. There are views on salvation. There are ideas on the church. There are feelings on just about every other topic in the Bible. However, the most tragic part is nearly every opinion people put out there is coupled with a blatant disregard for what God actually says in His word. But worst of all, we've reached a time when people don't seem to care all that much about truth. People are more interested in being “accepting” and “non-judgmental” than in discovering what the truth really is. In other words, our world thinks that everyone is “right” in their own way and our time is better spent in total acceptance of each other, no matter our differences. The bottom line is, not all opinions can be right. There can only be one right choice, one truth. This truth can only be found through a diligent, careful, and honest study of God's word.

Where the Heart Is

A home has walls glued together with the magic paste of tears and laughter,
Sorrows and joys,
Hopes and dreams.
It takes many things to make a home;
An attic filled with yesterdays...
Rooms filled with today...
And children filled with tomorrows.
A home is a house with four walls
all held together by a family's love.

To find the truth, we must check our opinions and personal biases at the door. This means we have to be willing to accept something that might differ from what we thought was right. When it comes from God's word. In the end, the only thought that matters on any religious topic is God's. He breathed out ("inspired") every single word in the Bible, which makes every single word important (2 Timothy 3:16-17). He provided us with every single verse we need to show us how to be godly and to behave in this life (2 Peter 1:3). He even made it clear that Jesus is the only way to get to God, the only source of Truth, and the only way to receive eternal life.

The truth may not always be popular, but if it's God's Truth, it's always right.

The Truth may not always be accepted, but it's still the Truth.

In our increasingly resistant culture, let's have the courage to accept the truth, Speak the truth, and stay with the truth.

God Loves You and We Love You Too

Have a wonderful day!
