I rejoiced greatly in the Lord that at last you renewed your concern for me. Indeed, you were concerned, but you had no opportunity to show it. I am not saying this because I am in need, for I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want.

I can do all this through him who gives me strength.

Philippians 4:10-13

The difference between those who are content and those who are not has nothing to do with how much they have.

There are millions of people with very little who are content. There are millions of others who have a great deal, but are never satisfied. No amount of increase in possessions can provide true contentment, for no matter how much we have, a love for more can never be fully satisfied.

Solomon had great wealth and power, but he recognized the ultimate emptiness and lack of ability to provide contentment, writing; “Whoever loves money never has enough; whoever loves wealth is never satisfied with their income. This too is meaningless. (Ecclesiastes 5:10).

The world around us measures success in terms of houses and bank accounts and retirement funds. But God looks at the heart and not the balance sheet. He knows that we can only be truly content if we rest in Him. That is why He calls us to contentment—not to take away good things from us, but to guard us against the snares of longing for more.

The Christian who has God can always be content, regardless of what he has or lacks.
God alone is always enough.

Godliness with contentment is great gain, for we brought nothing into the world, and we can take nothing out of it.

1 Tim.6:6 –10

Waiting Too Late

Before George Washington crossed the Delaware River, a Tory farmer gave the British general a note that stated General Washington's plan. Instead of reading the note immediately, the British general placed it in his pocket. When he finally got around to reading the note, he was a prisoner of war.

Many on the Day of Judgement will regret putting off taking advantage of God's patience and longsuffering. They will long for another opportunity to obey the gospel, be restored to the church, or convert a friend. Avoid the "thief of time" and take care of vital decisions today. (Hebrews 3:7-8; James 4:14; Luke 12:16-21)
