Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Matthew 6:19-21KJV

The destruction of the city of Pompeii in 79 AD following the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius was one of the worst natural disasters to befall the Roman Empire. For hours ash and rock fell on the seaside town on the Bay of Naples, eventually burying it more than sixteen feet deep. It would not be until the 1800s that the site would be excavated. Among the ruins of the ancient city, more than one thousand bodies were found where the rain that followed the fall of ash formed a kind of cement that made it possible to get a clear picture of what had happened on that fateful day even hundreds of years later. One of the interesting features noted by archaeologists is that a number of the victims perished while they were clutching bags of gold. But no amount of wealth could save them from the disaster.

The world places great value on money and material possessions, but these are things with no lasting value. The treasures of earth cannot be spent in eternity. Only the things that we invest there during our lifetime will endure. Our priority has to be on the next world rather than this one. While the choices we make may not make sense to those around us, and may place us in the minority, God is keeping a different kind of balance sheet than the world does. And He never loses track of what we do for Him. In thanking the church at Philippi for their financial support of his work and ministry Paul wrote, “For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity. Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account” (Philippians 4:16-17).

Every one of us lives either for this world or the next, and that choice determines the rest of our lives.

Sending Help to Aid in Hurricane Relief

Hopefully everyone received a call to inform you of this effort to collect a special contribution this morning to be sent to the Churches of Christ Disaster Relief Team. They are working so diligently to help those in such great need at this time in the southern states. We are blessed with so much and often take it for granted. Let's help however we can right now.

Please keep all these people, workers and victims, in your prayers.

Thank You All So Much

“And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.” Acts 6:7

I heard a silly story about a man who wanted to buy a parakeet. The store had two parakeets and the shop owner said, “I’ve got one parakeet for a hundred dollars that can sing and talk really well, and a twenty-five-dollar parakeet doesn’t sing but will talk a little.” The man decided on the twenty-five-dollar parakeet to save money. After a week he went back to the pet store and said, “He hasn’t said a word.” The owner replied, “He has to peck a little bell before he talks.” So, he bought the bell but there was still no word from the bird. The owner said, “He needs a little ladder to climb before he speaks.” So, he bought a little ladder. Finally, that bird pecked the bell, then he ran up and down the ladder and looked over at the man and said, “Don’t they sell any birdseed in that store that you go to?”

There are so many people who treat the Christian life that way. So many people are pecking bells and running up and down ladders, but activity is no substitute for the food of the Word of God. We need to value the ministry of the Word of God. The Church will be strong to the degree that its people maximize and emphasize the ministry of the Word of God, not only from the pulpit, but also in our classrooms, in our homes, and in our work place.

A. Rogers

Have a wonderful day!
