God Sees The Heart

“Make a tree good and its fruit will be good, or make a tree bad and its fruit will be bad, for a tree is recognized by its fruit. You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For the mouth speaks what the heart is full of. A good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and an evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored in him. But I tell you that everyone will have to give account on the day of judgement for every empty word they have spoken. For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned. Matthew 12:33-35

No group more strongly rejected the message that Jesus was the Messiah than the Pharisees did. They were outraged that this upstart from Galilee who had not attended the approved schools and received the official stamp of approval was so popular with the people. During a discussion about to do about Jesus, they revealed a great deal about their motives for refusing to believe. “If we let him go on like his, everyone will believe in him, and then the Romans will come and take away both our temple and our nation.” (John 11:48) They viewed Jesus as a threat to the way of life they had developed and were enjoying. They were not willing to acknowledge their need of salvation, or that Jesus was the promised Lamb of God. Although the Pharisees had perfected the performance of the outward rituals of religion, there was no genuine love for God in their hearts. They only cared about how things looked on the outside, so the evil in their hearts and their lost condition were revealed by their response to the Lord.

“Jesus said to them, “If God were your Father, you would love me, for I have come here from God. I have not come on my own; God sent me.” (John 8:42)

We must guard our lives against the temptation to focus on making sure that the outward things appear right while allowing ourselves to harbor evil in our hearts. Though we may be able to fool others for a time, God sees the heart, and He knows not just what we do, but why we do it.

The life that is pleasing and acceptable to God begins on the inside with what fills our heart.

God Loves You and We Love You Too

A BETTER WAY

T'is better to weave in the web of life
A bright and golden filling
To do God's will with a ready heart
With a hand that's swift and willing.

Than to break the delicate tender threads
Of our curious lives asunder
And then blame God for the tangled ends,
And sit and weep and wonder.
